Japanese Will Face Charge Of Murdering Kelowna Man

Circumstantial Evidence Adduced Regarding Death Of Chinese Merchant

KELOWNA, B.C., Nov. 19.—The preliminary hearing of Hsioh Hsiao, a Japanese, charged with the murder of Wong Bat, wealthy Chinese merchant and gambling house proprietor, who was found dead in his garden in the early hours of the morning of Wednesday, November 2, was concluded on Friday, the accused being committed for trial at the next court of jurisdiction, by Judge Burne. E. C. Weddell appeared for the prosecution and H. V. Craig for the defence. The evidence was all handled through interpreters, Charlie Lee, of Kamloops, acting for the Chinese and Yamaya for the Japanese.

Throughout the trial the court room in the Casorso block was crowded almost completely with Orientals, there being but few white people.

Accused's Actions Traced
The evidence of the several witnesses traced the doings of the accused from the day before the murder until he was arrested on his way to Coquitlam. It showed how he had been broke and hungry before the killing and robbery of Wong Bat and how, within a few hours after the murder, the accused seemed to have a sum of money which he told his friends he had made in gambling. But Chinese gambling house proprietors stated that he had not gambled in Kelowna on the night previous to the murder with the exception that in one house he made two bets of 15 and 10 cents and lost both times. He had been hungry but unable to get a meal as he was already in debt to the restaurants in Chinatown. When the accused was brought to Kelowna he was searched by Constable Smythe who found $316 on him, including a torn $10 bill.

Torn $10 Bill
A Chinese druggist and merchant, Yick Lee, stated he had repaid a loan to Wong Bat a few hours before his death and described how, in taking two $20 bills and a $10 bill of his roll, the latter had caught him in the rubber hand and became torn. He described the tear and the color of the bill, which tallied with the torn one found on Hsiao, in the roll of $316 which was tightly wound round with string and placed next his skin in the hollow behind his ankle, and which had escaped two searches made by the Kamloops police.

Prisoner Shows Little Interest
The accused is about 35 years old, has thick and very black hair and prominent clear cut features. Throughout the hearing he showed little interest, and the audience was unable to gather whether he was able to follow what was going on or not. He made no statement whatever throughout the hearing.

Always Carried $500 or $600
Wong Bat described the nightly departure of her husband to the Koon Wo store next door, and elsewhere, and his usual return shortly after midnight. He always carried a roll of about $500 to $600. As her husband did not return at the usual hour on November 2, she was worried. At 3 a.m. she got up and looked out of the window but could not see him go back to the Koon Wo store at this time would have been lying a short distance away, dying or dead from the murderous assault on him in which his skull was fractured apparently by a 2 by 2 stick about 30 inches long. At 6:30 in the morning she again arose and looked out the window for her husband and then lying on the lawn, face down, in front of her cottage in Chinatown.

Hoy Lee, a partner of Wong Bat in the Koon Wo store and in the Chinese relief gambling house in Chinatown, told of having run one of the gambling tables the night previously and of giving Wong Bat $146 in bills which he had put on to another roll he had in his pocket, also of giving him two bags of money containing bills and silver, there being $50.15 in one bag and $50.60 in the other. These bags were the Chinese relief share of the gambling activities. He had seen the accused in the gambling house that night but he had not been gambling.

Der Ming, who knew the accused, and who had been in the gambling hall and had left shortly after the deceased, had followed him through a side entrance to the restaurant which was adjoining. The accused had gone out of the front door of the hall about a minute after the deceased had left through the other entrance, the witness said. The deceased ordered a bowl of chow mein and a cup of something and carried both of the restaurant and evidence of these was found beside the body.

Did Not Have 25c
Lee Kum, who conducts the gambling game in the See Lang Lung store had seen accused in his place. On the night of November 1 he had bet 15 cents and 10 cents, and lost, then went away. Ye Wo, proprietor of the chop suey house adjoining the Chinese relief gambling house had been there on November 1 and Hsiao had asked for a meal but had been refused as he already owed money for other meals. He stated that he had no money and was hungry. Lee Poy, proprietor of the St. Louis Cafe stated accused had come to his place and had a 25 cent meal and had not paid for it because he was broke.

Footprints Examined
Corporal MacDonald of the B.C. Police, city detachment, was called to the scene of Wong Bat's death and had examined the footprints of deceased and found $20.50 in various pockets. He took measurements of footprints and paces.

Constable Smyth, of the B.C. Police, told of searching the accused after he was turned over to him in Kelowna by the Kamloops police. No money had been found in his clothes, but under his underwear behind his ankle he had found a roll of bills wound tightly around with string, amounting to $316, and amongst the bills was one torn $10 bill of the Bank of Montreal.

Yick Lee, Chinese merchant and druggist, stated that Wong Bat had come to him on the night of November 2 (Continued on Page 9, Col. 3)

Pictures Poland As Danger Point

Capt. H. G. Scott, Calgary, Describes the Situation in Poland As One That May At Any Time Set Europe Ablaze With War—Russia, Germany, Lithuania Not Satisfied

"The most dangerous point in the whole of Europe at the present time is Poland," declared Captain H. G. Scott, of Calgary, in addressing the Canadian Club dinner gathering in the Kalamalka hotel on Monday evening. Painting a vivid picture of post-war conditions in the nation of thirty million people who look fearfully westward to Germany, with misgivings across their eastern frontier at Bolshevik Russia, and with continuous strife toward Lithuania in the north, who have a doubtful neutral neighbor in Czechoslovakia to the south, and "a thoroughly rotten ally in Rumania," the speaker asked his audience to draw its own conclusions as to the inevitable outcome of such a situation unless some vestige of good-will can be restored.

"It would seem," said Capt. Scott, "that the existing peace is merely a truce of exhaustion, not that as soon as that exhaustion is ended the League of Nations' paper treaties will be burned, and the babble of the League's Assembly drowned in the roar of guns." In the course of his interesting address the speaker revealed himself as having been a shrewd observer while travelling through Eastern Europe.

Referring to comments regarding Russia, in Poland, he said: "Nobody would dogmatize confidently about the Bolshevik regime. It is very difficult to know exactly what is happening under the Soviets. What is true of one section of Russia may not be true of another."

Capt. Scott stated, however, that he frequently heard the asserted opinion that if the Russian much discussed "five year plan" succeeds to within sixty per cent. of the estimate, "it will shake the economic foundations of the world."

"The Russian army is efficient," he said. "Of this there is no doubt. Training is excellent. But reserves are weak. Success in a short war might be possible, but a long campaign would reveal the weakness of those reserves." Nowhere, but particularly in Poland where a better understanding of Russia's activities prevails than elsewhere, there is the anticipation that there will be a speedy end to the Bolshevik regime.

"A different crew has seized the reins of tyranny," the speaker declared. "Slaves of the Czars once, the Russians are now the slaves of the Jews." Favor Bolshevik Regime
Oddly enough to the outsider, the Poles do not want the Bolshevik administration to break down. The Russians are less efficient, less formidable, than under the Czars of the past. Russia is looked upon as being infested with a plague which cripples her, and every attempt is made in Poland to prevent the spread of that plague into her territory.

When a train from Russia arrives at the border, remarked the speaker, the crowd at the station is barricaded off, conductors and engine crew guarded by sentries, and all the baggage searched. This is to prevent the bringing in of any propaganda.

But Germany is looked upon as the greater danger to the peace of Poland. Under the Bolsheviks the Poles feel that Russia can be handled, but they are not so confident of being able to deal with Germany. That part of Poland which was until their own accord, show the boundary, today the most productive part of the new nation. Scientific agricultural methods introduced by the Germans account for this, although the soil is not as good as that found elsewhere in Poland. Quite naturally Germany looks with disfavor upon the loss of this territory, which involves "a standing threat to the Peace of Versailles."

Polish Corridor
The real source of strife between Poland and Germany, however, is the so-called Polish "corridor" bordering the Vistula, which completely separates East Prussia from the rest of Germany. "Germany will never rest until this corridor is recovered," said the speaker, "and in the meantime Poland is plastered with posters urging youths to join rifle clubs, against the Germans."

A great deal of this enmity is "flag-waving" according to Capt. Scott, enlarged and heightened by political parties for internal purposes, but there is no doubt that an acute situation exists.

Gives B.C. Parallel
"Imagine," continues the speaker, "the strip of British Columbia territory facing the coast, between Alaska and the state of Washington, being claimed by the United States as its own territorial contact between those two sections." He instanced this as a parallel comparable with the Polish corridor situation.

This Polish controlled strip of territory has ruined East Prussia. Once a week, moreover, when German troops are permitted to cross, haughty German officers are obliged to surrender their swords with all the rest of the transported armaments. Naturally, feeling runs high.

This hostility, moreover, pervades all the relations between the two nations. Where Negotiations Failed
Following the war, American financiers planned two great Polish projects, a light and power corporation, and a complete flying system. Negotiations were broken off, however, when the Poles learned that it was the intention of the Americans to staff these concerns with German experts.

In addition to the Russian border, a mass of suspicion, guarded by eight-foot barbed wire fences, the Polish corridor, and the actual German border, Poland also has to contend to constant irritations in the Lithuanian front.

Lithuanian Controversy
In this sector the controversy is particularly acute because the Lithuanians (Continued on Page 4, Col. 6)

MANY GIFTS FOR JUBILEE HOSPITAL ON DONATION DAY

Visitors Were Shown Over the Hospital and Afternoon Tea Was Served

Many gifts were made to the Vernon Jubilee Hospital on Donation Day, last Thursday. Many citizens took gifts, were shown over the buildings and enjoyed tea served in the Nurses Home. The gifts included fruits, vegetables, groceries, jam, honey, linen, books, magazines and cash.

The directors are making a determined effort to raise funds before the end of the year so as to be able to reduce the indebtedness. Former members of the association are urged to renew their memberships and picture shows and a tag day are planned for the near future. It is hoped that the churches will again observe Hospital Sunday. Mrs. Stonehouse has planned an art exhibit for Thursday, December 1. Exhibits are coming from Kamloops, Kelowna and other points as well as many from Vernon.

TOUGH TIMES FOR APPLE GROWERS IN WASHINGTON STATE

Sales Being Made At Prices Which Leave Growers Nothing Over 60c Advance

Apple growers and shippers in the state of Washington are in a bad way. A Vernon man recently visited Wenatchee and Yakima and returns with statements that the situation there is much worse than he had any knowledge of.

Under the farm loan system, advances have been made to growers up to 60c a box on their apples. The advances were made by the Government through the shippers, and now when the apples are shipped the shipper must take the first 60c and return it to the government. But the trouble is that very many varieties are not returning 60c and the result is that the shipper has to go down into his own pocket and repay the government, charging the difference to the grower.

This condition has been the same for two years with the result that the growers are heavily in debt and becoming discouraged, are abandoning their farms.

In many instances these farms were bought at $1,500 an acre. Probably the buyer paid half cash. After two years of increasing indebtedness they are beginning to feel that not only is their investment gone but that to continue is hopeless. Also there is uncertainty as to a continuance another year of the loans.

Two cars of Fancy Delicious were sold at Yakima on November 16, for 90c. The apples were 138 and larger and the price was at shipping point. The shipper told his Vernon friend he had made a good sale. On the same date X-Fancy Winesaps sold from 60c to 80c a box, an average of 75c; Delicious, 90c to $1.00 for the choice sizes; some Fancy Delicious as low as 70c for the best sizes; Rome Beauty X-Fancy, 60c with a sale from one grower at 45c; Jonathans X-Fancy, 60c to 80c; 60c, Fancy, 60c; export Jonathans 50c.

When these values are compared with Cartel values in the Okanagan the tremendous difference is plainly seen; Delicious X-Fancy, medium size, $1.50; Fancy, $1.35; Rome Beauty X-Fancy, $1.25; Fancy, $1.15; Jonathans, Fancy, $1.10; C. 1.00; Winesaps, X-Fancy, $1.50; Fancy, $1.35; C. 1.20.

What with bank failures and terribly low prices the man on the land in Washington is greatly discouraged and does not hesitate to tell Canadians that they come from a wealthy country.

A bad situation on the Vancouver market has not yet been cleared up. Dealers there claim they would like to do business with cartel members on stabilized values, but that so long as non-cartel shippers are offering apples at lower values they are buying them.

For instance a dealer there has a car of bulk Delicious which he bought at $18.00 the ton from a grower in the Okanagan.

DEMONSTRATION BY SCHOOL CHILDREN

Physical Education and Home Economics Departments Stage Displays

Education week is being specially marked in this city by the physical education and home economics departments of the Vernon High School.

On Wednesday afternoon the girls of Grade 9A and Grade 10 entertained their mothers and a few interested friends and gave them an opportunity to see the work that is being done in both departments.

At three o'clock the guests attended one of the regular physical education periods in the Scout Hall, when the girls of both grades did regular class work, including pyramids and routine gymnastics under the squad leaders.

At the close of this period, Miss Marjorie McKay, the teacher, explained some of the objectives of physical education work, emphasizing particularly the corrective effect.

At the conclusion of the physical education work the guests, over fifty in number, visited the home economics building, where afternoon tea was served. The refreshments had been prepared earlier in the afternoon by the Grade 9A girls, who acted as hostesses and served the tea.

Similar plans are under way for this afternoon, Thursday, when the girls of Grades 11, and 12 will entertain their guests.

Handle With Care!

Cartel To Ask Railways Not To Enforce New Classification On Bulk Apples Till Crop Is Moved

Manager, McGuire Empowered To Make Representations To the Carriers

At a meeting of the Cartel Committee on Wednesday afternoon it was decided that the Manager, M. V. McGuire, is to take up with the railway companies the advisability of hauling apples bulk under the eighth class rate at least until the 1932 crop has moved to market.

It is felt in many quarters that the railways may prefer to continue the movement as it began until the crop is disposed of rather than face a loss of tonnage because the apples do not move.

To sweeten the movement of some of the less desirable apples it was decided on Wednesday that bulk movement be extended to include some varieties which so far have not officially been going out that way. The values agreed upon as effective today, November 24, are:

Delicious, $30.00; Stayman, $27.50; Spitzenberg, $25.00; Rome Beauty, $25.00; Vandenberg, $22.50; Ben Hur, $20.00; York Imperial, $20.00; Newtown, Household, $1.00; Winesap, Household, $1.00; Delicious, Household, 90 cents.

All Other Varieties, Household, 80 cents.

Adoption Standard Charge
The question of adopting a standard charge for cart insulation has been considered by the Cartel Committee, and the following has been approved: Total Charge, $15.00; this charge covers side racks, papered; bunker racks, papered. Floors to be papered with covering of straw and a second layer of paper over straw.

If a false floor is specified an additional charge of $10.00 must be made.

Property Owners Are Organized

Membership Open To Those Owning Property Within the Confines Of the School District—Ratepayers Only Not Eligible—Annual Fee of $1—Preparation Final Draft of Constitution Now In Progress

The Vernon and District Property Owners' Association was formed at a crowded meeting in the Board of Trade room last Friday evening.

Called primarily for the purpose of forming a "ratepayers' association," those in attendance early in the course of discussion stressed the necessity for an organization mostly of property owners within the district school area, and subsequent procedure was along such lines.

Following the adoption of a rough draft constitution, the election of officers named Col. R. Fitzmaurice as President; W. H. Smith, 1st Vice-President; G. A. Hankey, 2nd Vice-President; G. P. Bagnall, Secretary; E. K. Peters, Honorary Treasurer; and Dr. J. S. Brown, F. W. Curry, Arthur Legg, F. H. Wilmet, and Miss B. Yeatman, as executive committee.

All named to the general executive were present at the meeting, were unanimous choices for the various positions, and did not demur when their names were suggested.

This constituted the greatest contrast to previously attempted organization meetings when paltry attendance was coupled with the refusal of all nominees for executive positions to allow their names to stand.

Every seat in the room was taken shortly after 8 o'clock, and many were standing, when W. H. Smith was nominated to take the chair. Discussion thereafter was guided by the constitution of the Kelowna Ratepayers' Association, the proposed by-laws for the Vernon organization being selected from those chosen for the regulation of the Kelowna association.

For Property Owners
That only property owners should be included in the proposed organization was G. A. Hankey's statement. "The people who pay the biggest proportion of the city's revenue should alone be entitled to membership," he said, pointing out that a general ratepayers' association would mean the likelihood of property owners being outnumbered by those who only pay light, water and sewer rates.

"Ratepayers not owning property," he declared, "might control an organization intended to safeguard the interests of the property owners."

G. P. Bagnall declared that the association "should work on the democratic principle of allowing those who have the franchise to exercise it, but that when financial questions are under discussion only property owners be allowed to vote."

The final decision of the meeting, however, was to resolve itself into a property owners' organization pure and simple, thus differing from the type of association formed at Kelowna, which is a general ratepayers' body.

Other by-laws in the Kelowna constitution, however, were for the most part adopted.

There was sharp discussion with regard to the inclusion of the school district within the scope of the association.

"You are excluding general ratepayers in the city," remarked Frank Valair, "and giving residents outside the city limits, but who are within the school district, the right to vote on the city's affairs."

Readjustment of the by-laws, others stated, could restrict the voting power of those outside the city to school matters.

"People who contribute so large a part to school taxes should have a voice in this new association," declared E. K. Peters, whose assertion, evidently met with the favor of the majority, for the motion including the school district within the jurisdiction of the association was later adopted without any noticeable opposition.

Fees were set at one dollar annually, H. Jones appointed auditor, and the Canadian Bank of Commerce selected as the association's bank.

The final draft of the constitution will be prepared by the executive and submitted to another meeting to be called in the near future, at which time it was anticipated, the association will get down to the actual task of deliberating upon civic questions.

Scott Calls For Sympathy With Those Recently Out of Valley of Shadow, Slavery, Oppression

Graphic Word Picture of Shifting Political Scenes In Mid-Europe

"We in British Columbia, enjoying freedom and security at home, and victory abroad, should have sympathy for other nations not so fortunate, and particularly those of Eastern Europe, which have only in recent years come out of the valley of the shadow of slavery and oppression."

Speaking on "Personalities in Eastern Europe," before about 50 members of the Women's Canadian Club at the Kalamalka hotel on Monday afternoon, Captain H. G. Scott, of Calgary, drew a graphic picture of the shifting political scenes particularly in the Balkans, Jugo-Slavia, and Poland, weaving his interesting address about the lives of Venezuela, Prime Minister of Greece; and to a lesser extent King Achmed Zugo, of Albania; King Alexander, of Jugo-Slavia; and Marshall Pilsudski, of Poland.

Venezuela, to whom the speaker first turned his attention, was born about eighty years ago on the island of Crete, then a part of the Turkish empire which stretched right across the Balkans.

"Justice was merely a by-word in the Turkish empire days," the speaker remarked. "The government tried the case, and also gave the evidence. Books were forbidden, newspapers unknown and prohibited."

Into such an atmosphere Venezuela was introduced to political action. Skilled with the revolver and blessed with plenty of nerve he soon made his way into the plans of the Greeks to rid Europe of the Turk, finally rising to become Prime Minister.

In 1912 the warring Balkan Christian states united long enough to drive out Turkish oppression, although receiving no help from the great powers. There followed an agreement between Serbia and Greece, the latter country having greatly increased its size, and an opportunity for honoring this agreement arose in 1914 when a pistol shot in Sarajevo brought Serbia and Austria-Hungary into armed conflict.

Venezuela proposed to honor the agreement, calling upon Greece to rush to Serbia's assistance, and especially to guard her against a stab in the back from Bulgaria, but as King Constantine's wife was a sister of the German emperor, complications arose. The Greeks seemed divided in their sentiments.

With the monarch against him, however, Venezuela did not have much of an opportunity to assert himself, and for a long period he was virtually held a prisoner.

Criticizing Greece's treacherous policy, Venezuela's statement has become a classic. "Greece," he said, "is too small a nation for so great an infamy."

With vividness, Capt. Scott described the adventurous nature of Venezuela's organization of the Crete rebellion. Watched by Constantine's spies, he one night went to an upper room of a friend, where, behind a curtain, his shadow could be noted. Apparently he was playing chess, but this was not true. While his cousin substituted as the shadow on the blind, Venezuela himself slipped out by a back way, was whisked in a motor car to the southern extremity of Greece and then took a British warship to Crete, his birthplace. As soon as he arrived the successful revolt against the Turks broke out.

Continuing his narrative, Capt. Scott told of Venezuela going to Salonika, subsequently obtaining force, who fought for the Allies. Constantine was driven out and Greece became a full-fledged enemy of the Central Powers.

The speaker stated that he was in Athens on the occasion when the defect of Bulgaria was officially announced by the Prime Minister. "The cheering from the crowd beneath Venezuela's balcony," he declared, "could be heard, several miles out of the city."

With Peace Came Problems. But with peace came problems. Remembering the days of Greek classics, the Smyrna area on the coast of Asia Minor was awarded to Greece, the underlying hate of the Turks being incurred as a consequence. Warfare and strife continued, and Constantine was voted back by the people, Venezuela being driven into exile.

Constantine's true ability was immediately manifested. He placed in charge of the Greek army a very good disciplinarian, but a man who was also a lunatic. This leader, according to Capt. Scott, believed that his legs were made of glass, and that if he leaned over the legs would naturally break off. When the Greek military leader, and not surprisingly, great losses were sustained. If it had not been for Great Britain's assistance, which made possible the checking of the Turks at Thessaly, they might have once again over-run this corner of Europe.

Venezuela recalled that the Greeks realize what fools they had been. Venezuela was therefore called back to a country which had trebled in size and again given the reins of government, which reins he has held ever since.

Situation in Albania. The contrast between this sector of Europe and the more modern nations was particularly emphasized in the speaker's description of Albania, and in the life story of its reigning monarch, Achmed-Zugo.

Blood feuds in this nation's mountains accounted for hundreds of lives annually, Capt. Scott said. Enmity between families led to wholesale murdering. The idea of peace therefore does not easily gain a footing there.

Achmed Zugo, a young mountaineer educated at Constantinople, who organized a rebellion from the Jugo-Slavian boundary to become a president, and finally the king, has managed in his attempt to eradicate the blood feuds, but external troubles are rife.

In its position at the mouth of the Adriatic Sea, Albania occupies a strategic position and is jealously watched by both Italy and Jugo-Slavia.

Promoting Rebellion. The "race" section of the short time ago, when it was alleged that another rebel army was bearing down upon the government and rushing to seize an important centre, drew widespread comment. Even such a cautious newspaper as the London Times joined in condemning Jugo-Slavia for inspiring another revolt so as to attempt to seize control.

"The truth of the matter," declared Capt. Scott, "was that Italy, and not Jugo-Slavia, was promoting that rebellion. Italy managed it so that it appeared that Jugo-Slavia was stirring up the trouble. The result was to discredit Jugo-Slavia among other nations, while Italy stepped quietly in to negotiate a treaty which approximates a protectorate of the important little nation."

Fifty Thousand Perished. In speaking of the life of King Alexander, of Jugo-Slavia, the son of the late King Peter, of Serbia, Capt. Scott described the horrors of the flight of the 60,000 Serbian refugees across the Albanian mountains to the Adriatic following defeat at the hands of the Austrians. Fifty thousand women and children perished en route; he remarked, braving terrors almost unimaginable. The ten thousand who finally reached the Adriatic saw their relief hindered when with food, torn by enemy craft, while the food offered them by the Albanians turned out to be poisoned. The cold was so intense at times that these refugees were herded so compactly into huts as to enable them to sleep standing up. To lie down, to fall to the ground in any fashion, would mean death because of the cold. Among these refugees young Alexander made his way also to the Adriatic, and the memory of these experiences has created a bond between him and his subjects.

Hate, Treachery, Cruelty. Hate, treachery, cruelty, smouldering embers of warfare are in all these nations.

Describing the rule of the Turk in Europe in pre-war days, Captain Scott read accounts of farmers being herded into pig-stys until they paid their taxes, of being suspended from roofs, with their heads down in smoke, until they revealed where they had hidden their stores, and of being compelled to run barefoot along in this way upon rocky roads.

As a consequence enmity dies hard in this section of the world. Even farther north, in Poland, the sword has not been forgotten.

Armed Force The Watchword. Speaking of Marshall Pilsudski, the Polish dictator, as the last of his interesting character studies, Capt. Scott made reference to posters distributed everywhere through the country. These posters represent the national hero as sowing in a field. In the background are factories. But unheeded, on Marshall Pilsudski's coat, tossed upon the ground, lies a sword, and close by stands a Polish sentinel. Armed force is apparently the watchword.

In concluding the speaker declared: "Our lot, with its comparative security and peace, contrasted with the danger and risk to individual happiness in these foreign countries, should prompt our sympathizing with these unfortunate peoples."

A young traveller in soap was relating some of his experiences to his friends at a birthday party. Whilst walking along the front at Brighton, with my samples," he began, "I heard a shout from the beach. On looking over to see what was the matter I saw a maiden being carried away in the surf."

"Of course, you dived in to save her," murmured a sweet young thing.

"I quickly undid my case," he went on, "and threw a bar of my famous soap."

"Whatever for?" everyone asked in a chorus.

"Wash her back," was the cool reply.

HOMESPUN

Here are some hitherto unpublished "Impressions of England," little thumbnail sketches which were sent to me recently by a Toronto writer. I am passing them on, believing they will be of interest to a great many, who have visited, or lived at, these places. He says:

Henley-On-Thames. Landing on Henley-on-Thames, where famous oarsmen of the world gather. In olden times Romans and Saxons looked arms in deadly strife in these valleys, and from thence sprang our liberty in Magna Charta. Pope's quotation, "Charm struck the eye," reminds one that in Henley-on-Thames Valley at Twickenham, the home of the famous rugby football, is still to be seen Pope's Villa. I pondered on its departed glory, and days long gone, by when conversation was a fine art and there was time for quiet meditation. Anywhere and everywhere the charm of England is the same.

I went to Stoke Poges, near Windsor Castle, the sacred scene that inspired Gray to write his Elegy. I sat under the yew tree where Gray wrote it, and its sheltering boughs now protect the grave of him who fills history with his magic verses. It was at Stoke Poges, that William Penn, of Pennsylvania fame was born in 1644.

London. Back to London, the great mother-heart of the world. It is Sunday afternoon, and I am sitting in the Abbey, in Poets' Corner. Here lies the great Lord Macaulay, he who strung together like exquisite pearls, the purest English of his time. My head leans on the statue of Joseph Addison, contemporary of Dr. Johnson, who wrote that classic which we used to read at school, "The Vision of Myra."

The hymn over, the congregation settles back to hear some great bishop preach. He was a little man—with a big head and a kind Irish face. One could read the love of God in his eyes. The tiny figure, robed in clerical, creeps quietly up the winding pulpit stairs, and looking benignly about him gives out his text, "Blessed are they who mourn," then up, up, in a tuneful voice rises the tune, story of promise to those who mourn, till the thousand year old arches vibrate with the power of the dear bishop's voice, giving out that everlasting message to sustain us now and forever.

Cathedral of Winchester. Another day I visited the Cathedral of Winchester, near Southampton. It is here that St. Swithun is buried, St. Swithun, patron saint of umbrellas! St. Swithun was bishop of Winchester in 890, and friend and advisor to Alfred the Great. In this Cathedral, Bloody Mary and Philip of Spain were joined together in holy wedlock. One chair that they sat in is still to be seen. In the nave, Nelson, 1817.

The romance here has some of England's finest male voices. In the late afternoon the quiet light streams through the storied windows, and lends wonderful atmosphere to the choir's exquisite melody.

Portsmouth. One day I went to Portsmouth and saw the Victory, Nelson's flag-ship at Trafalgar. On the quarter-deck one sees where England's greatest sea warrior fell on Oct. 21, 1805. He died as he had lived, in action. Additional lustre crowns those heroic souls who die in action. Thus we cherish the memory of Wolfe, and our own Sir Isaac Brock at Queenston Heights.

Nelson, the great St. Paul's, and daily, London's roar pays generous tribute to his imperishable genius. Nelson once observed that he attributed most of his success in life to always being fifteen minutes ahead of time. We can apply this to our generation, for in these days the man on the railway, the crypt of St. Paul's, and daily, London's roar pays generous tribute to his imperishable genius. We can apply this to our generation, for in these days the man on the railway, the crypt of St. Paul's, and daily, London's roar pays generous tribute to his imperishable genius.

Sumnerland, B.C., Nov. 21.—After an illness of some length, the death occurred Thursday morning of George Anderson, aged 70 years.

The deceased was among the old-timers in Sumnerland, having come here thirty years ago, and was well known as an outdoor man, and a good shot, having taken part in valley shooting competitions.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. George Smith, of Vancouver, and three brothers, Gus, of Vancouver; Harry, in California, and Fred, of Penticton. The funeral was held in Sumnerland on Saturday afternoon.

Peter Johnson, B.C., Nov. 21.—A loss to the Scandinavian community in the vicinity of Stepony Siding at the north end of Spallumcheen Municipality was that sustained in the death of Peter Johnson, 74, who passed away at the age of 74. The deceased was greatly looked up to by those in his own neighborhood, and his loss is many ways in their times of need was never lacking. He was an exceedingly powerful and capable man in the field until well past middle age; but an internal trouble had sapped his strength in later years. Mr. Johnson came with his family to the district about a score of years ago, and his wife and one son by a considerable time preceded him. He is survived by another son, who assisted in the working of the farm, and by a married daughter living on the premises.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, at Zion United Church, the Rev. E. T. Cluniff officiating, and a large attendance of friends and neighbors. The interment took place at Armstrong cemetery.

Phillip Hookham. SUMMERLAND, B.C., Nov. 21.—Word was received here Thursday morning of the death of Phillip Hookham, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hookham, aged 17 years.

The deceased was a pupil of St. George's School, Vancouver, and had been seriously ill for over two weeks. His death occurred in St. Paul's Hospital, where both his parents had been called, and had been with him for some time.

Interment took place in Vancouver. Surviving are the boy's parents, and one sister, Margaret.

London had 4,662 fires, with an average damage of $760, last year.

GREATEST HOPE IS LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Both of these are League of Nations measures. A special extra session of the Council is to open soon to examine the Lytton report. If Japan does not agree to accept the findings there will be an extra session of the assembly of the league, possibly in December.

Wonderful Progress. Wonderful progress has been made in the question of disarmament since the League took it up. It is inevitable that so important a question should take years to work out. It would have been unfortunate had they arrived at a conclusion so soon. The deliberations are a cause of hope.

A Rich Country. Manchuria, a country about the size of our own Province of British Columbia, covers an area of roughly 380,000 square miles, and embraces the three northeastern provinces of China, and incidentally has nearly a thousand miles of Coast line. This part of China has always enjoyed a large measure of autonomy and in recent years has been governed by a military regime with headquarters in Mukden, the capital. The last of the great war lords, Chang-iso-lin, was killed, by an explosion at Mukden in 1928 and was succeeded by his son the young Marshall Chang-Shueh-Liang, who governed Manchuria until September, 1931, when the Japanese forces took forcible possession of a large part of Manchuria. Now the reason given by Japan for her military operations were the alleged murder of a Japanese officer, Major Nakamura, and the alleged blowing of the tracks by Chinese soldiers, of the South Manchuria Railway, near Mukden. The South Manchuria Railway is a Japanese owned property and the Japanese claim that they acted in self protection. With regard to the death of Major Nakamura, the Chinese claim that he was arrested in civilian attire in a part of Manchuria where he had no business to be, that he tried to escape after his arrest and was shot when attempting to escape his guard. With respect to the blowing up of the railway, the Chinese authorities also deny any responsibility and say that in fact no such explosion occurred.

Manchuria is one of the world's rich agricultural areas and has sprung into prominence within the last twenty-five or thirty years. Its climate resembles the climate of our own Prairie Provinces, long cold winters and short hot summers. The population has increased from a few million in 1900 until it has now reached 100,000,000 inhabitants, ninety per cent. Chinese, mostly farmers, and about one million Japanese subjects, eight hundred thousands of whom are Koreans. The crops consist of the soya bean, very much the most important part of Manchurian field crops, maize, millet and kaoliang, the latter crop being second in importance.

The soya bean industry in Manchuria is striking. Today nearly sixty per cent. of the exports of Manchuria is represented by the soya bean and its by products. Its production might be said to have started in 1908 and by 1930 had reached a volume of about 250,000,000 bushels, about sixty per cent. of the world's total. While Japan took the major part, European countries, notably Denmark, Germany, Holland, England, etc., took large quantities. The bean and its by-products were used in Europe to produce margarine, soap, fertilizers, etc.

Railway Development. The railway development in Manchuria is a story of the century. Since the beginning of the century there have been constructed in Manchuria approximately 3,800 miles of railway as compared to a railway mileage in the rest of China of about 5,500 miles, built since 1877. In addition to the Chinese owned railways, there are two very important railways worked by foreigners. The Chinese Eastern Railway, built by the Russians, about 1,000 miles in extent, and the South Manchuria Railway, approximately 800 miles in extent built by Japan, have both done a great deal to develop the country as they are more than railway undertakings, considering that term in its commonly accepted sense.

Dairen, the seaport serving the terminus of the South Manchuria Railway, is a city of 100,000 people. It is a city of the future, and its development is a story of the century.

The findings of the Lytton Commission recently made public were summarized by Colonel Hiam. China accepts them. Japan contends they are fair, but impossible to put into effect because she has officially recognized the new government of Manchukuo.

It is altogether unlikely that the findings of the Lytton report will be immediately accepted but it is very probable that Japan will become reconciled to them as during the passage of the years they may prove to be well founded and possibly the only solution which will work out satisfactorily.

LOSS OF GLASSES IS COMPLAINT IN ARMSTRONG COURT

Upshot of Snowball Melee Brings Ukrainians Before Police Magistrate Groves

ARMSTRONG, B.C., Nov. 23.—Quite a little crowd from the Ukrainian colony at the north end of the municipality gathered round the police station on Tuesday, when Magistrate Groves was asked to adjudicate regarding the loss of a pair of spectacles. A young man named John Beblow summoned a compatriot, George Spelchin, for depriving him of the use of his eyes. In the course of a lot of confused evidence, it appeared that there had been a snowball melee, and that somehow Beblow's glasses had disappeared. But just where they went or going was really responsible for their loss, Mr. Groves said, and finally Mr. Groves said that there was no evidence to warrant a conviction, and dismissed the case.

The twenty-fifth birthday banquet of the Armstrong-Women's Christian Temperance Union, which was to have been held at the Recreation Hall on Tuesday night, had to be postponed owing to the large number of those expected to attend who were either down with influenza or had it in their homes. Many new cases are reported every day, and a number of our business men of the city are among the victims. The type of the malady, however, continues light, and so far no serious after trouble has been reported, the sufferers being usually able to be about again in a week.

Ten members of the local militia who have been taking the divisional course of instruction in military matters sat for examination at the Drill Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday nights this week.

Night temperatures during the past week in the Armstrong district have hovered around the freezing point or a little below it, and there has been more or less rain every day, with some sleet, and an inch of snow on Monday, a little of which remains on the ground.

way, and administered by Japan under concessionary rights, is now the second seaport of China, being only exceeded by Shanghai. The South Manchuria Railway also owns ice coal mines at Fushun, which produce seven million tons of high grade bituminous coal yearly, most of which finds a market in Japan. The railways of Manchuria are modern in every respect, do a thriving business, but unfortunately have been the cause of great international rivalries which it is hoped the measures recommended by the Lytton report will tend to diminish if not entirely wipe out.

All Agree Findings Are Good. The findings of the Lytton Commission recently made public were summarized by Colonel Hiam. China accepts them. Japan contends they are fair, but impossible to put into effect because she has officially recognized the new government of Manchukuo.

SHUTTLE SQUADS EXCHANGE VISITS

Kelowna B and minton Players Lose Match Played At-Pentiction By 12-4

PENTICTON, B.C., Nov. 21.—On Sunday there was a match and interchange of teams between the badminton clubs of Kelowna and Pentiction. The A team from Kelowna visited Pentiction, while the Pentiction B team competed in Kelowna. The local club has some particularly strong players this year and scored victories in 12 out of the 16 games played here. The team playing for Pentiction comprised Messrs. Roadhouse, Holden, Solly, and Dodwell. Messrs. Roadhouse and the Misses Beatty, Bernard and Lewis.

The Kelowna B team, which has been in abeyance for the last four or five years, has been resurrected and held its first meeting of the season on Thursday at the Ellis St. Parish Hall. Mrs. Titchmarsh gave a short address on the early history of music, with especial reference to scales and to the systematizing work of Sebastian Bach. Miss Latimer and Mrs. Titchmarsh sang two songs, and several of their pupils gave instrumental and vocal numbers.

This week being Education Week in B.C. a petition to the Government has been started here and was placed in the Anglican, United, Presbyterian, and Baptist churches on Sunday for signatures of all who are interested in the full development of character in the rising generation. It is a plea for at least some religious education in the schools by fully qualified teachers and suggests a simple but practical method of obliterating the old difficulty presented by varied dogmas and denominations.

On Tuesday the Pentiction Music Teachers' Association is holding a meeting to discuss the question of remaining independent, or of linking up with the Provincial Music Teachers' Federation. Papers will also be read by Cyril Mossop on Psychology in Music and by Miss E. Turner on Dictation.

Hunters Are Enthusiastic
Now the snow is lying in the mountains a number of Pentiction hunters have been out after deer and are enthusiastic about the hunting this year. Two of the younger men of the community, having shot their quota, distributed the carcasses between the hospital and the unemployed.

On Saturday a tea and sale of work was held by the Pythian Sisters.

On Tuesday the Rev. Canon Vernon will lecture in the Pentiction Hall on "The problems in social service which confront the world at the present day and some suggestions for coping with the same." The lecturer is an authority upon the subject and is Secretary for the Canadian branch of the Anglican Church Social Service League. On the same evening, Dr. J. Lytle Telford will give an address in the hall of the Kelowna Pythians on the subject "If I Were Dictator."

ARMSTRONG WOMEN SPONSOR BAZAAR

Women's Institute Undertaking Triumphs Over Adverse Conditions

ARMSTRONG, B.C., Nov. 22.—The Armstrong Women's Institute made a success of their annual bazaar on Saturday afternoon, in the face of almost every conceivable handicap, a day of raw rain and fog, a flu epidemic that kept away scores of potential patrons, and of course the ever prevalent "depression" and shortage of cash.

There was no sign of the depression in the very cosy Institute quarters at the Forester's Hall, which were a real pleasure to enter from the gloom and wet beyond the door. Although there was at no time a large crowd in the hall, there was a pretty continuous flow in and out, and at the end of the day, though the takings were not so large as they have been at these affairs in years gone by, they were well above what had been expected, and the ladies who had worked so hard to make the event a success, were very well satisfied.

FIREMEN'S BALL MOST SUCCESSFUL EVENT OF MANY IN RECENT YEARS

Novel Decorations At Scout Hall Where 250 Persons Enjoyed the Dance

The annual Firemen's Ball of last Thursday evening is considered the most successful event of its kind ever held by members of the local brigade. Over 250 persons were included in the jolly crowd which enjoyed the excellent music provided by Selwyn's six-piece orchestra, and the splendid decorations, carried out in the colors of blue and white, were augmented by helmets, hats, and other firemen's accessories, and the Scout Hall was transformed as never before. The black curtain at the back of the orchestra stage was relieved by many flags, and formed a brilliant background.

This annual event, considered by one of the most important of the civic departments, was an outstanding success from every angle, and Fire Chief Kent and his assistants are being congratulated.

The drawing for the decorated 20-lb. Christmas cake named L. G. Hey as the winner.

The Fruit-Growers' Refrain

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast." Particularly that of orchardists; But till I see some signs of sanity, I'll shut the door on hope—

When every pip we growers raise, Comes at least a grain of common sense, And this transforms itself to common deed, Then can we welcome hope.

WEDDING BELLS

Thorburn-Berry

All Saints' Anglican Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on November 19 when Charlotte Elizabeth, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Berry, became the bride of Mr. J. Thorburn, of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. C. B. Gibson, with Miss Gibson at the organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Walter, wore an ankle length dress of white georgette with lace and with silk net veil held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and carnations.

The bridesmaids, Misses Nellie and Mary Berry, sisters of the bride, acted as bridesmaids, the former in a dress of peach hat crepe and the latter in baby blue flat crepe, with becoming picture hats to match, and carried bouquets of pink and white chrysanthemums and carnations.

The groom was supported by his brother, Bert, and Jack Berry acted as usher.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where the young couple received many beautiful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn left on a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and on their return will make their home in Vernon.

Tedder-Darke

SUMMERLAND, B.C., Nov. 21.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Summerland Baptist Church by Rev. J. Scott, the pastor, on Saturday morning, November 19, at eleven o'clock, when Lillian, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Darke was united in marriage with George Tedder, son of the late Joseph Tedder, and Mrs. Mabel Tedder, of Kamloops, B.C.

The church was very prettily decorated with greenery and snow-berries, and from a green bell, under which the bride party stood, four white streamers led to large baskets of pale-colored chrysanthemums.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a long-sleeved wedding gown of white satin and lace. Her veil which was very long and formed a train, was worn in Juliet cap style, and caught with orange blossoms at the back. With this she wore white gloves and shoes and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The two bridesmaids were Miss Gladys Darke, sister of the bride, who wore a frock of pale green crepe, fashioned on straight lines with a cape effect at the shoulders, and Miss Doris Bayntun, frocked in yellow crepe with short-sleeved matching coat. Both bridesmaids wore small white velvet turbans, carried bouquets of chrysanthemums, and wore gloves and shoes to match their costumes.

Affid "We were best man" and George Graham and Robert Scott were the ushers.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Dale, and Miss Ruth Dale, organists of the church. At the reception which followed Mrs. Darke accepted in receiving, wearing navy georgette, with small navy hat and navy and white corsage of roses. Mrs. Tedder was becomingly dressed in brown with touches of orange on her small brown hat.

The table was centred with a square tiered wedding-cake surrounded with mauve tulle, and mauve candles were in four silver candlesticks. Mrs. R. E. White, of Kamloops, poured the tea, and Mrs. G. J. C. Butler White poured coffee. Misses Ruth Dale, Laura McLachlan, and Catherine and Margaret Ritchie assisted in serving.

For travelling the bride wore dark brown crepe with touches of beige, a muskrat coat, small brown hat and matching accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Tedder motored to Vernon, taking the train from there to New Westminster, where they will live for three months, after which time they expect to make their home in Kamloops.

The bride, who is a graduate of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, has been a nurse at Tranquille Sanatorium for several years.

A Double Wedding

LUMBY, B.C., Nov. 21.—A double wedding of interest in the district took place on Saturday in Vernon when Isaac Mikesh, of Lumby, and Nellie Sigale, youngest daughter of Andrew Sigale, of Mabel Lake, were united in marriage, and George Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Proctor, and Annie Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Holland, both of Mabel Lake, were also quietly married, all leaving the same day for a honeymoon at Kamloops.

Mr. and Mrs. Mikesh will reside in Lumby and Mr. and Mrs. G. Proctor, Jr. at Mabel Lake.

PENTECOSTAL MEETING CLOSED SUNDAY EVENING
Vernon was the choice for the Pentecostal Workers' convention activities last week. Workers and delegates from the various assemblies in the surrounding district, gathered in the Central United Church, for the opening service on Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Morning and afternoon services were of special interest to Sunday School workers, and young people's leaders. Brief but helpful messages were contributed by various visiting ministers, after which there followed a season of open discussion on the subjects of a few mentioned interest.

Rev. J. E. Barnes, superintendent in B.C., was the speaker at all evening services. His messages of Evangelism, were appreciated by all privileged to attend.

The convention came to a close, Sunday evening, Nov. 20, after a week of instruction and inspiration.

ZANE GREY DID NOT BREAK RECORDS AT SCHOOL BUT SUCCEEDS

The student with the all "A" report, but always the one who succeeds in later life. And, to put it the other way around, the fellow who gets poor reports in school isn't necessarily a failure.

Zane Grey, popular novelist, whose action romance of the West, "Heritage of the Desert," made him a millionnaire, came to the Empress Theatre on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 25 and 26, with a cast headed by Randolph Scott, Billy Blane and J. Farrell MacDonald, is an example of that.

Grey never got all "A's" on his report card. In fact, the first letter of the alphabet seldom graced his cards when he was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. He was better known as a baseball player than a scholar, and the letter "P," which he won in that sport, occurred more frequently for him than any other.

HUNTERS HAVE GOOD BAGS IN THE MARA HILLS

The many friends of Miss Vivie Witala will be sorry to learn she is again ill, having been in bed for several days with a severe cold. She has just returned home from the Vernon Jubilee Hospital, where she was sick for several weeks with pneumonia.

William Barr and Miss Dorothy Davy, R.N., returned to their respective homes by motor last Thursday morning, breaking their journey at Merritt, where they picked up Mr. Barr's mother, before resuming their journey to the coast. Miss Davy and Mr. Barr have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Davy for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Graham and little son, came in by auto from Vancouver, last Sunday to visit Mrs. Graham's mother, Mrs. W. L. Gibbard, for a few days.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES PROVE TO STIMULATE TRADE

Experience of Wenatchee Shippers Points To More Loads Being Hauled

WENATCHEE, Wash.—As proof that reduced rates on apples will stimulate shipments and sales in a year like this, it is reported by local shippers that the movement of third grade apples in other standard containers have more than doubled into Montana and the Dakotas during the first two months of this season.

Up to the middle of October last year the Great Northern had moved only 50 cars into this territory, while this year following the reduction of about 20 per cent. in rates, a total of 125 cars went into this territory.

A large volume of these shipments have been handled by the Pacific Fruit & Produce Co. though the Wenatchee Produce Co. and some other shippers also experienced with low grade apples in containers other than standard boxes. The rate did not apply on the regular boxes.

Up to date the Pacific Fruit & Produce Co., has shipped about 150 cars of apples below the fancy grade into the above territory which is several times as large a tonnage as usually goes to that area. At first a 40-pound box was made up and used, the apples being unwrapped and packed by the "face and fill" method, only the top layer being packed in an orderly manner. Later the trade asked for a smaller box and on holding 30 pounds of apples was made up, similar in proportion to a pear box.

These were shipped to wholesale distributors connected with the company or to its own branches in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana. The apples were sold by the retail trade at from $1.10 to $1.20 in most cases as far as can be learned. They returned the grower around $5.00 a ton in bulk which compared with $1.00 being paid for the same apples as culls. While it did not pay harvesting costs, it had the effect of salvaging some of the crop that would otherwise be wasted. The territory to which these apples were shipped does not usually take anything but C grades and would not take the considerable tonnage of apples of any kind this season so shippers say.

Mrs. Venables, Miss Elsie Edmunds, Miss Eileen Edwards, Miss Kitty Fitzmaurice, A. E. Berry, J. Kidston, T. Brayshaw, and Bolly comprised the badminton team from this city which competed at Kamloops last Saturday evening. The games for the most part were interesting and closely contested but the local players were unfortunate, losing by 18-6.

Tonight, Thursday, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Drew will be the scene of the annual meeting of the Vernon Lawn Bowling Club, which has just concluded a very successful season under Mr. Drew's presidency. Officers will be elected for next year, while ten cups and more than twenty prizes will be presented to various individuals who were the winners in competitions arranged during the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Montague have returned from Victoria where they accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Trask, who will remain there for the winter. Going to the coast they travelled the Fraser Canyon Highway. Returning, they came through the United States. Mr. Montague advises anyone driving to the coast to travel through the States.

OBITUARY

Eugene D. Strout

The many friends of Eugene D. Strout were grieved to hear of his death in the Vernon Jubilee Hospital on Tuesday. The deceased, who was 77 years of age, had made his home in this city for the past 41 years, and was well known to many throughout the district, particularly to those who were here in the early days.

Born in the state of Maine in August of 1855, the late Mr. Strout spent his youth in the United States. In 1887 he was married in North Dakota, coming to Vernon about four years later, with his wife, and two children, John and Jessie. Two daughters were subsequently born in this city. His wife, the former Miss Thatcher, predeceased him here about 17 years ago. Mr. Strout was first employed on the Coldstream Ranch, and in later years settled on a ranch of his own near Lumby. Recently he had not been active, and for the past three years was confined as a patient in the Vernon Jubilee Hospital.

His death is mourned by his son, John D., of Los Angeles, and by three daughters, Jessie, of Vernon; Mrs. R. Welte, of Vancouver; and Mrs. George Anderson, of South Pasadena, Cal. The funeral service will be held on Friday, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, from St. Andrew's United Church, with the Rev. Dr. Jenkin H. Davies officiating.

MERRITT PEOPLE ARE INSISTING ON WORKING COAL MINE

Declare Reverted Diamond Vale Property Must Be Operated This Winter

Merritt Herald: The next meeting of boosters of the local co-operative movement aiming at immediate reopening and production of coal at the reverted Diamond Vale mine here will be held in the City Hall on Tuesday next at 8 o'clock.

A determined and enthusiastic body of men, miners, business and professional men and others, held their second meeting in Trinity Hall last Tuesday evening. Undeterred by a letter from the Department of Lands intimating that the former owners of the mine now reverted to the Crown would have the first chance to re-purchase the property, the meeting decided without a dissenting voice to press the government to give permission to people of Merritt to "dig in" and dig out coal on a co-operative basis so as to provide immediate relief, by self-help methods, to unemployed miners and others.

The committee, elected Tuesday, and which will report at the next meeting, are: Government Negotiations, Dr. J. J. Gillis, M.L.A. Chairman; R. H. Helmer, J. W. North; Finance, Mayor Langstaff, chairman, P. McLean and L. E. Morrissey; Marketing, E. B. Maynor, chairman, L. Lobinger, R. Dunbar. The City Council unanimously decided to act on a suggestion by Mayor Langstaff, forcibly voiced, that a resolution be sent to the provincial government strongly urging that the Diamond Vale mine here, now reverted to the Crown, be only turned over to intending operators who will guarantee that they will operate within a reasonable time, and urging the government to encourage any responsible parties seeking to acquire the property so that payroll will be created at the earliest possible date to alleviate the serious situation of unemployment.

The Board of Trade decided to put its weight behind movements urging the provincial government to dispose of the reverted Diamond Vale Colliery properties here as soon as possible, but only to parties who intend immediate development of the mine.

ACCOUNTANT IS IN CHARGE OF MERRITT MILL POWER COMPANY

The Merritt City Council has been informed unofficially that George L. Salter, chartered accountant, Vancouver, had been appointed by order of the Supreme Court as receiver for the Southern Interior Light and Power Ltd. and manager of the assets of H. C. Meeker, which are subject to $125,000 judgment of the company whose bonds are guaranteed by the City of Merritt. Application was made by Knox Walkem, barrister, in behalf of the Montreal Trust Company, as trustees. Mr. Salter is at present receiver for the Vulcan Iron Works and the Lamato company. He is at present in Winnipeg.

REPUDIATION OR A SCALING DOWN

FORMERLY there has been some question of the value of the opinion of the average individual on such vital questions as the continuance or abandonment of the gold standard by nations. Generally, these questions are left for the pronouncement of opinions by economists, bankers and parliamentarians. However, events of the last few years have shown that these supposed leaders of thought and more or less experts, have been at fault in their judgment and the man on the street has been encouraged to consider the views of these individuals as just other opinions.

Three years ago it would have been an exceedingly rash man, who, without a background of academic training, or a history of successful financial banditry, would have publicly expressed an opinion on this matter. Today, it is recognized that so extraordinary are the times and such unexpected developments have been brought to light by the twisted state of the financial structure, that ordinary rules do not apply.

Shall Canada continue its efforts to maintain the value of the Canadian dollar as near the gold standard as possible, or shall Canada go in as other nations have done, for inflation, cancellation of debts, or a scaling down of the rates of interest?

A citizen of Vernon who within the past six months, has travelled extensively in Western Canada and some portions of the United States, in discussing the paralysis of trade, advocates inflation. He states that a producing nation like Canada is languishing because the producers of wealth, farmers, horticulturists, miners, fishermen, lumbermen, and others, do not receive enough dollars for the things they produce. Had they more dollars, he urges, they would spend more and trade would be revived as they exchanged for more dollars the results of their basic operations. His contention is that the volume of trade and the prosperity of Canada, depend on the producers having the wherewithal to set the wheels of commerce in motion. Against this suggestion of inflation there are very obvious objections.

In this issue of The Vernon News is another suggestion, made by Stephen Freeman, a well known producer. He advises that the opinion of the country is hardly ready for the course advocated by Miss Agnes McPhail and others in the Canadian House of Commons, cancellation of the national debt, though in time such a course may be necessary. Mr. Freeman would have conversion of Dominion, provincial, and municipal loans to a lower rate of interest, something which would not impose severe hardship on any one, since the purchasing power of the dollar has increased thirty per cent. And if this did not have the effect of reducing the bank rate of interest, he suggests that it should be brought about by an act of parliament.

Mr. Freeman would inform vested interests in New York and elsewhere, they can either choose between repudiation of debts or payments of interest in the lawful money of Canada. In a sense this would weaken the international status of capital.

Ten years ago it would have been impossible in Canada to provide a serious discussion of such a step as repudiation or of anything except payment of obligations according to the exact and specific terms of agreement. Today, when it is becoming apparent that money has exacted impossible terms, bolder spirits advocate repudiation and more moderate ones confidently discuss the absolute necessity for a scaling down of charges. It has become apparent that obligations contracted in the flood tide of prosperity or world trade, can only be repaid under similar conditions. It is comparatively easy to pay even large sums out of a huge store but when the store shrinks and the payments remain constant or even increase, the possibility of repayment becomes beautifully less.

One thing which should be borne in mind in discussions of finance is that there is no dishonest or under-hand motive impelling nations or individuals at this time. It is the absolute impossibility of meeting the demands of international capital. Honesty in recognition of the true position of affairs is as commendable in these discussions as it is in any of the ordinary and routine affairs of everyday life. Capital is trying to exact the last farthing and once it recognizes that in doing so it jeopardizes everything, will not refuse adjustment on a new basis. It is not necessary to look to foreign fields to see this. Mortgage holders no longer evict mortgagors, they compromise. Capital is being asked to take the same lenient view not simply for an indulgence but because the borrowers cannot pay, under the conditions which capital has imposed.

SILENCE MEANS CONSENT?

RESIDENTS of the North Okanagan who have pride in the history of this riding should not fail to remember that while outwardly there may be no sign of movement, down underneath political aspirants are at work who hope to benefit by their manipulations.

Many residents of the Okanagan Valley have commented on the suggestion made in these columns that the Okanagan, speaking by and large, should be one riding in any redistribution of ridings which has for its purpose economy in the functions of government. The reasons for such a suggestion are so obvious they hardly need the briefest summary. There is a community of interest, there is historic association, there is accessibility.

Any redistribution which does not recognize these prime factors is a redistribution which is designed for other purposes.

This is a matter on which the people should be vocal, politicians understand and pay attention when they hear a clamor arising. They put forward money and influence and defend follows they take it as assent. The citizens of Vernon will have real reasons for regret should there be a carving of political ridings such as is proposed to serve the economy of government, but the desire of politicians for safe seats.

In some influential quarters there is a proposal to revise electoral divisions by one. Can any person in full possession of faculties believe that such a redistribution is for the purpose of economy? Salmon Arm has a plan. The proposal made for redistribution did not suit the people in that district. They made plenty row about it and averted the threat. Should the North Okanagan not desire to go in the state of political apathy the people must make their views known. If they do not they will only have themselves to blame.

The wheel that squeals the loudest is the wheel that is the grease.

HELP US TO A LARGER VISION

ENGROSSED as we are with our petty daily round the voice of Captain H. G. Scott, Calgary, breaks in on us a reminder that our problems and troubles are nothing. During the week, this travelled gentleman has been addressing Canadian Clubs in Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton. His theme, events which have changed the lives of millions of people, the setting up of new states, the national fears, hates, hopes, aspirations which threaten to once again drench the world with blood.

His quiet voice inspired confidence, instilled belief in his

And I have roamed afar!
Without one single sad regret,
I sheath my scimitar!

Amidst battles have I fought,
Some drawn, some lost, some won;
And I go to the rest I sought,
Now, at the set of sun!

O! let me not set idly sleep,
Nor crave a further boon,
Than twilight vigil, lone, to keep,
Beneath the stars and moon!

Or, by mine own warm fireside,
Amidst the sweetest I live;
At home, whatever else betide,
With God's strong arm above!

With all the books I long to read,
With memories—and sweet;

honesty and sincerity of purpose. The very detachment and modesty of his utterances, the evident mastery of subjects and superb choice of language, have created a deep impression.

Canadian Clubs in bringing in speakers of the calibre of the Calgary Police Magistrate, are doing a good service. In addition to the audience he addresses at the meetings, there is the larger audience to which the newspapers of the Valley carry his words. Such messages, bring to us a vision of what is going on in other lands. The conditions under which millions of human beings are struggling, ought to help us rise above our own trivial affairs, become more tolerant of others, and more appreciative of our blessings.

Addresses such as those by Captain Scott and Colonel T. A. Egan, help us to become more informed as to what is going on in the world, to clear away the mist that is over our very intelligence on the activities which provide us food, shelter and recreation, and to a clearer view of the truth that man shall not live by bread alone but by every word of God.

SMALLEST BOOM IN HISTORY

AN up and coming Canadian, Terence Kelly, publisher of The Argus at St. Mary's, Ontario, refers to the situation in which we find ourselves as "The Smallest Boom in History." Viewed in this light the situation is not so bad. There have been periods before when worse than this we were experiencing the worst. The following thoughts are published in Harper's Weekly on Saturday, October 22, 1927, might have been written yesterday:

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—nor in the lifetime of most men who read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep depression. Never has the future seemed so bleak and so dark as at this time. In our own country there is a universal feeling of commercial prostration and panic, and thousands of our poorest fellow-citizens are unemployed, and without the prospect of it. In France the political children seethe and bubble with unrelenting Russia hangs as a cloud, like a blood-dark storm upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources, and influences of the British Empire are surely used, and are yet to be tried more surely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian insurrection, and with its disastrous relations in China.

"It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel an indifference—which, happily, no man pretends to feel—in the issue of events.

"Of our own troubles no man can see the end. They are, fortunately, as yet mainly commercial; and if we are only to lose money, and by painful poverty to be taught wisdom—the wisdom of history, of faith, of sympathy, and of charity—no man need seriously despair. And yet the very basis to be rich, which is the condition of this widespread calamity, has also tended to destroy the moral forces with which we are to resist and subdue the calamity."

Ten Years Ago

(From The Vernon News, Thursday, November 23, 1922.)

The apple crop this year is expected to reach out about ten per cent. more than last year, or about 3,800 cases. A petition largely signed by well known citizens, asking Mayor Oosterhout again to allow his name to go before the electors for the chair position in the city was presented to His Worship by a delegation Wednesday evening. The delegation consisted of Messrs. J. H. Platen, who is absent on a holiday—While walking on the C.P.R. track near Armstrong last Friday evening, J. H. Platen was struck by a freight train just as he was leaving the track. Being very deaf he did not know that it was approaching, and suffered a severely injured hip and leg and dislocated shoulder.

Twenty Years Ago

(From The Vernon News, Thursday, November 23, 1912.)

Mrs. Beveridge is this week opening a school for boys and girls in this city. A handsome parish hall is being built by All Saints Anglican Church between the church and the rectory—O'Connell and Grinnon have dissolved partnership in the saw mill business at Larkin and Glenora, the latter continuing the business under his own name. Both wood and coal have been scarce articles of late, something in the nature of a fuel famine threatening Vernon—Mr. and Mrs. Piper have left for the Old Country, where they will spend the winter.

Thirty Years Ago

(From The Vernon News, Thursday, November 20, 1902.)

H. W. Knight is visiting Calgary on a business trip—S. W. Nash returned last week from a trip to the boundary between B.C. & S. P. of Oshkosh, left on Friday for Winnipeg, where he will remain until March. The recent snow has driven a good many deer down from the hills and game is much better than last year. A. A. Henderson is present at Wednesday night's meetings. The chair, Captain Dwyer, Captain Oliver, and Messrs. Harwood, Davies, and Meyer. A meeting will be held in the Vernon News office on Monday night for the purpose of organizing a skating club.

Forty Years Ago

(From The Vernon News, Thursday, December 1, 1902.)

The Bank of Montreal opens up today, December 1, with O. A. Henderson as acting manager and W. L. O'Connell as accountant. A great deal of disappointment has been expressed over the action of the post office department in taking off the bi-weekly mail between Vernon and Okanagan Mission and giving back to the old bi-weekly service. A number of young men in town are taking steps to have a truck in operation this winter. They have secured the use of a vacant lot on Barnard Avenue east to Martin Brook street. The work of building the new boat for C. P. R. Okanagan Lake service has commenced. Mr. McKay, of Portland, Ore., superintending the construction—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Davies have taken up their residence at Okanagan Mission on the property recently purchased from F. Brent.

CORRESPONDENCE

Were Leaders Hostile?
Editor The Vernon News, Sir:

May I be pardoned for suggesting that Mr. Chambers, in your last issue, shows considerable hardihood in remarking that the railroads were no doubt encouraged to proceed with their case against the bulk rate by the lukewarmness of some of the producers on the question. Can it be said that the leaders of the fruit industry hereabouts, with whom Mr. Chambers would be classed, were actively and openly hostile to the proposed abolition?

When the ex-president of the Vernon Board of Trade in his last annual report recommended "that the Board must use every means to counteract or cancel bulk shipments" the only protest noted in the press was from one lone grover; and as the ex-president of the Vernon Board of Trade was not himself a fruit man he must have been inspired by some of the higher-ups in the fruit industry before he would have advocated such a drastic course.

By the abolition of the bulk rate the B.C. grover loses the only rate which put him in any degree on an equal footing with the Ontario grover in shipping to the prairie market. And as Mr. Chambers points out the purchasing power of the prairie consumer at the present price of wheat is so low that he cannot possibly pay any more than the small price he has been paying for our apples this season and if he is to purchase the balance of our crop held back here in storage the producer must shoulder the cost of boxing and the additional freight, which of course will mean red ink.

There is only one thing that could happen so far as can be seen that would avert this catastrophe and that is that if the grovers of British Columbia and the farmers of the prairie could be able to bring sufficient pressure to bear on Premier Bennett to induce him as a Christmas gift to move Canada off the gold standard. In the dark days of the War the then, Premier Borden, off his own bat, offered the lives of half a million Canadians as a Christmas gift to Britain. If Mr. Bennett's eloquent speeches on the "dignity of Empire" are not just "after-dinner" talk, how can he continue to refuse to allow us to fall into line with the rest of the Empire in the mere matter of currency.

Yours truly,

Donald MacLennan.

Okanagan Centre, B.C., Nov. 21, 1932.

Market Report

Winnipeg

Zero weather in Winnipeg has changed the market into winter conditions. The trade will probably store a little ahead to insure supplies during blizzard times. So far the effect of this extra storage has not been noticed. Ontario shipped three cars of barrel apples, three cars of hampers and one of bulk, while B.C. shipped ten cars of boxed apples and twenty bulk. The supply was heavy with demand moderate and prices unchanged. Pears are moving slowly at steady prices, with only light shipments coming in. B.C. at $2.50 per crate, California field lugs are quoted at $2.75 per lug. Potatoes are offering in liberal volume with prices the same as last week. No. 1, 90-lb. sack, 90c. Onions are also unchanged in price. Celery, Manitoba, No. 1, 50-lb. crate, $1.75; B.C., 50-lb. crate, $2.25.

Calgary

A real chinook developed through the night on Friday making the snow disappear rapidly. Business is very quiet. Bulk apples sales have backed up considerably and the wrapped stock movement is almost negligible. This may be a mid-season dullness but it is certainly very evident. Jobbers have cut prices to stimulate sales, leaving very little profit. Alberta and B.C. housewife tomatoes are in moderate demand, with price slightly weaker. The expected advance in price on Alberta potatoes has not materialized and probably will not until the local grown stock is entirely cleared up. Some cars of Southern Alberta Gems are still being offered at $9.00 per ton f.o.b. California and Washington are supplying head lettuce and cauliflower. B.C. celery is coming out of local storage with limited demand. All other lines of root and ground vegetables are being supplied locally. Car arrivals: B.C. 5 bulk and 4 boxed apples, 1 mixed apples and 1 mixed oranges, 1 mixed grapes, 1 banana and 2 citrus fruits.

The smallest fog particles have been measured at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It was found that 3,000 of them could be placed on the head of a pin.

To remove red ink stains from table linen spread freshly made mustard over the stain and leave for half an hour. Then sponge off and all traces of the ink will have disappeared.

GREAT PROMISE OF WORLD PEACE IN CONTROL PLAN

States Colonel Hiam In An Address Given Armstrong Board of Trade

ARMSTRONG, B.C., Nov. 21.—Col. T. A. Hiam, former associate with Sir Henry Thornton in the management of the C.N.R., and lately railway adviser to the Lytton Commission from the League of Nations in Manchuria, had a great deal to tell the Armstrong Board of Trade on Thursday night that was of much interest concerning the condition of the state of Manchuria.

The most pregnant remark made by the gallant Colonel was probably that near the end of his address, after he had pointed out the great promise for world peace that lay in the new plan for the control of Manchuria, devised and recommended by the Commission. He would ask his audience, he said, not to be in too great a hurry to feel discouraged if the proposals of the Commission were not at once accepted. The proposals include a distinct recognition of the sovereign rights of China over the region, but a board of international control which shall police the area, and upon which Japan would have representation. Even though refused at first, he thought they would see a position on the part of Japan to fall in with it as time went on. It would almost bankrupt her to keep a large army there continually, and she did not need to do it in order to secure the larger part of the trade of the country, which came to her already. In the course of his prolonged and detailed investigation of railway matters in Manchuria, he had not, he said, seen any evidence that the Chinese inhabitants desired to accept the domination of Japan, though they desired a change from the misrule that had obtained before. Although Japan declared that she had put down banditry in the province, yet reports came continually showing that more bandits, so called, were being fought with. There was a great deal of real banditry, but on the other hand many described by that name were Chinese fighting against foreign domination.

The actual banditry was under present conditions a continually growing evil, for the farmers who were being ruined by the bands one year were often compelled to become bandits themselves the next in order to live. The great breadths of the kaoliang crop, which grew twelve to fourteen feet high, with the grain borne in a sort of tassel at the top, were a help to the marauders, as they could vanish into the stalks and be hidden from pursuers. The greatest crop in Manchuria was the soy-bean, a recent introduction, but now of more importance to the country even than wheat was to Canada. It was exported, with its products, oil and cake, in great quantities to Japan and also to many European countries, but there was a tendency toward competition to develop with its growth in other parts of the world. Canada had not been able to cultivate it successfully, but in the States a great deal is now being grown. This had led to the development of wheat cultivation, and higher export prices for Canada, but although excellent wheat was grown there, he did not anticipate that it would come much upon the world market. On the other hand, he did not see much prospect for the development of Canadian trade there at present. We had nothing that we wanted except some manufactured goods, and these were supplied from Japan; on the other hand, they had nothing, so far as he could see, that we wanted, with which to make trade.

Along the spiritual side he spoke of Chinese, Indian, Persian, and Russian music. He mentioned the effect of music on people, and its use in treating mental cases. Scientifically, he stated that every atom, molecule, organism, and form has a note, and the combination of notes make rhythm and harmony. The interesting address had a decided theosophical trend.

On Sunday the Summerland Baptist Church celebrated, with special anniversary services, the 27th year since the organization of the church. W. C. Smalley, of Edmonds, was the special speaker. On Monday evening an anniversary banquet and church social was held. The church services and social evening were well attended.

Splendid Musical Concert

George Weaver was the speaker at the meeting of the Women's Institute on Friday afternoon which was held in the Lakeside United Church. His subject was Music and Life. His address was arranged under three headings, religious, practical, and scientific. He also spoke of observations of music in nature, and quoted an article by "Woodrow" from the Daily Province.

TRUCK OVERTURNS ON RUTLAND ROAD

Speeding Car Leads To Accident In Which Fortunately Nobody Was Injured

RUTLAND, B.C., Nov. 21.—While hauling coal in his truck from the station to the school on Wednesday last, A. F. Bach met with an accident which fortunately did not result in any injury but which might have had fatal results, but for sheer good luck.

Crowded off the road by a speeding car coming from Glenora, the truck went over the bank, turning completely over. Three persons were in the cab of the truck, but all were unhurt, though they experienced great difficulty in getting out. The car, which they had gone over the bank to avoid hitting, kept on travelling and was out of sight before the occupants of the truck could get back on the road. A wrecking car was unable to extricate the truck and teams of horses with block and tackle had to be brought to pull the truck out, and eventually, the road at this point is dangerously narrow, and a busy section in the fall of the year.

"My Irish Rose"
Under the auspices of the Women's Association of the Rutland United Church the comedy-drama "My Irish Rose," a play in three acts, by Walter Den Hart, was presented to an appreciative audience of over 250 persons at the Community Hall on Wednesday evening of last week.

The cast was composed mostly of young people connected with the church, together with two or three of the older generation who took the elderly characters. The financial results were very satisfactory, and the proceeds were raised to finance wiring of the church for electric light. Following were the characters and members of the cast, in order of their appearance: "Ann Mary McCormack," Miss A. Dill; "Peggy Burke," Mona Schell; "Shawn McCully," Peter Ritchie; "John Himmigan," Miss J. McRobbie; "Colman McCormack," E. McQuarrie; "Rose Orolgan," Muriel Urquhart; "Maurice Fitzgerald," Stanley Howes; "Michael Popperline," Kenneth Bond; "Archibald Pennywith," Ernest Muggford; "Lady Agnes Burdocklow," Jennie Reid; "Ellen Fitzgerald," Davis Schell; "The General Orolgan," E. M. Bird.

The play was directed by James Ansell, who has been the director of the many plays produced here in past years by the Rutland Amateur Dramatic Society. The R. A. D. S. orchestra also contributed their services, giving appropriate selections of Irish music during the intervals between acts.

Packing House Closes
The Leven and Fitzpatrick packing house closed down packing operations for the season on Thursday last. The employees held a dance in the Community Hall Monday night to celebrate the wind-up of the season.

The Scout Troop held the third meeting of the season on Friday of last week, with an attendance of 23 scouts and three leaders. Preparations are under way for a public scout meeting to be held early in December in connection with the annual meeting of the local association. The Beaver Patrol leads in the patrol competition, with the Foxes a close second.

Aunt (severely): When I was a small child I was told that if I made faces like that I'd stay like it.

Small nephew: Then why didn't you stop, auntie?

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZE MONEY TO REGIONAL WINNERS

Decided Upon By Armstrong Board of Trade—To Hold Annual Banquet

ARMSTRONG, B.C., Nov. 21.—The Armstrong Board of Trade at the first of the winter meetings held at the City Hall on Thursday night, endorsed the action taken by its executive committee in resolving to send cheques for the Regional Fair prize money to all the Armstrong and district prize winners of the late Interior Exhibition, payment being made in proportion to the points secured for ordinary prizes won.

The Chairman, Alderman Parks, said that decision was made to unanimously agree to the proposal, and he had not at the Executive meeting, after a very careful consideration, and he had not feared it would be necessary to let it stand over until January. There were a number of prizes to be presented. The meeting did not appear to desire to express any opinion on the matter, and it was finally left in the hands of the Executive to make what arrangements might be considered best.

Comment on Phone Rates
The question of excessive telephone rates was brought before the meeting, Ald. Parks pointing out the considerable amount of dissatisfaction that appeared to exist in regard to them at the present time. Secretary A. J. Pifer spoke of many phones having been taken out on account of the high rates. The farmers as well as the business men were complaining, failing to see why, when wheat had so gone down in price, these rates should not do the same.

G. W. Game said the farmers moved in this matter last Spring and approached the company, but nothing came of it.

J. Sanderson said he would hate to say how many phones he knew of that had been taken out, and that the Hydro Electric company would see all in good time whether it paid to keep up the rates, or not. He doubted if the Board of Trade could bring any effective pressure to bear.

To Develop Community Spirit
The Chairman asked for consideration of the question as to whether a greater degree of real, live community spirit might not be introduced into Armstrong if they could amalgamate some of the many organizations now working in the place, so that they might work together as branches of one big organization, giving mutual assistance and creating mutual interest.

J. Sanderson mentioned that the Dramatic Society, which was proposing to produce a comedy, intended to bring the profits from the show, when it was held, into a community distress fund, which certain persons had undertaken to manage at such funds. Nurse Charlton having mentioned to him that there was an urgent need for boots and rubbers by some of the children who could not be supplied with them from home. The flu epidemic had checked the preparations for the play, and so the money was not yet in sight. The Chairman expressed the hope that means would be found to meet the need.

GREAT GATHERING IN CELEBRATION GOLDEN WEDDING

Friends Gather About Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Smith, Of Salmon River

Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Smith, of Salmon River, celebrated their golden wedding on November 7, friends from many outlying points calling at their residence throughout the day.

The occasion, also marking Mrs. Smith's birthday, was adopted as a family reunion, and was concluded in the evening by a dance in the Glenora Hall.

Old time dances were the feature of the entertainment, Mr. Smith entertaining those present with a brisk step dance. Others contributing to the program were Miss Nora O'Neill and Jack O'Neill, the former's dancing being particularly appreciated. A little playlet was also enacted by Mr. and Mrs. Smith's grandchildren.

At midnight, following a greatly appreciated supper, the entertainment concluded, Mr. and Mrs. Smith being placed in the centre of a ring of friends who sang many well known old-time songs.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married in Ontario in the fall of 1892, settling the next year in Manitoba. After eleven years' residence there they came to Vernon in the city for twelve years, where the most of their children were born, and then moved to their home in the Salmon River district, where they have lived during the past 25 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith's nine children are all living. They have also thirty-one grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The sons are William Alexander, of Armstrong; Robert Henry, of Lavington; John Edward, at home; and Charles George, of Salmon River; and their daughters are Mrs. Annie J. O'Neill, of Salmon River; Mrs. Janet Elizabeth Schwebel, of Salmon River; Mrs. Margaret M. Doney, of Meadow Brooks, Alta.; Mrs. Mary E. Henshew, of Vernon; and Mrs. Nellie G. Elsom, of Salmon River.

All these sons and daughters with the exception of Mrs. Doney, were able to be with their parents on the recent occasion.
